Chamber Directors Outline Huge Project List for 1946

An airport, a hotel, a hospital, a master plan and solution of the downtown parking area rated high on the 1946 project list submitted for the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce at the meeting of its board of directors Monday night.

The board approved a $10,000 budget after insisting that $220 be transferred from potential surplus to publicity and advertising. E. W. Butler, manager, said he hoped to secure additional advertising funds from the city budget, but meanwhile the board decided to refer to the membership the whole question of setting up a reserve for a chamber of commerce building.

Dir. Stanley Perkins argued that the advertising budget was entirely too small for the major purpose of the chamber of commerce, and it was suggested that more than $1800 now frozen in the building fund might be used to better advantage if spent to induce new industries and business to locate in Redwood City.

The directors authorized appointment of the following committees: Executive, industrial with a special sub-committee on transportation rates, merchants' section, publicity, membership, promotion and building.

Pres. Ray Spangler said that personnel of the committees would be announced later this week.

Date for the annual meeting of the chamber membership was set provisionally for Feb. 21, at which time it was proposed to invite a panel of speakers familiar with the Redwood City scene to take inventory of the community's immediate problems.

The board approved a plan whereby the merchants' sections will be invited to elect its own officers. The directors also gave notice that their meetings in the future will be open to any member of the chamber of commerce. Regular meetings are scheduled for the second Monday of each month.

Building Permits Reach $227,900

City Bldg. Insp. L. M. Duncan did a rush business Tuesday when he issued building permits totaling $107,555 to bring the total of permits issued thus far this year to $227,900.

The 14-day total is compared to a figure of $14,050 issued during the first half of January, 1945.

Largest permits issued this month were: $20,000 to L. Cassaretto for construction of a butcher shop at 1646 Main St.; $32,000 to J. W. Brooks for a furniture store building at 1607 Rogers St., and $25,000 to C. Helsel for a plumbing shop at 603 Main St.

Duncan pointed out yesterday's rush may be attributed to the pending renewal of priorities on building materials.

Firemen Needs Help To Halt Blaze in Home

Martin J. Cahill, captain of the San Carlos Fire Dept., had to call on his fellow firemen for help Tuesday afternoon.

The shingle roof on Cahill's garage at 775 Chestnut St., San Carlos, caught fire while he was burning brush and tree trimmings. Little damage resulted from the blaze.

Fall Is Fatal To Small Boy

Two-year-old Patrick Mead died a 2 a.m. Sunday of pneumonia in a Hollywood hospital after falling into a fishpond adjoining his parents' home, his aunt, Mrs. Grace Winship of 517 Hudson St., reported Monday.

The boy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Mead, former Redwood City residents. Mr. Mead was employed in the Bank of America here for five years. His mother, Mrs. Ann Mead of 2908 Broadway, and sister, Miss Jane Mead, left yesterday for Hollywood to attend the funeral services.

Mrs. Winship said that the child was playing with his 4-year-old sister, Mary Ann, about 4 p.m. Saturday when the accident occurred. The fishpond contained rain water. Hollywood firemen worked for more than four hours to revive the child and were finally successful. He was taken to a Hollywood hospital where he died several hours later of pneumonia.

The boy is survived by two other sisters, Michelene, 5, and Christa, 6 months; an uncle, discharged soldier Jack Mead of Redwood City, and another aunt, Mrs. Marlet Conine of Redwood City.

The child's father was a graduate of Sequoia High School and had lived here a number of years. He was employed by the Bank of America in Hollywood for about four years prior to entering the grocery business for himself there several years ago.

Miss Jane Mead is secretary to City Mgr. Edgar W. Blom and was former City Mgr. Robert W. Mead's secretary. She expects to return to her position here Thursday, Blom said today.

Business Owners Ask Speed Cutdown

Aroused by the mounting toll of deaths and injuries on the Bayshore Hwy. in East Palo Alto, owners of businesses in the area have signed a letter to Gov. Earl Warren and Gordon Garland, director of motor vehicles, asking that the permissible speed be lowered on the highway through East Palo Alto.

The letter, signed by Nelson D. Gustin and approximately 35 other business people along the Bayshore in that region declared that "apparently there has been and continues to be no regard for human life" on the speedway and calls attention to Section 89 to 90.1 of the Motor Vehicle Code under which speed can be reduced as low as 15 miles an hour on a state highway with 13 business houses within a stretch of one-four mile.

Gustin's letter that he had appealed to San Mateo County law enforcement officials for reduction of the speed limit as one means of reducing the butchery on the Bayshore Hwy. and has been told that nothing could be done. Therefore, he said, the signers of the letter were apealing to the governor and motor vehicle director for their "immediate attention to the matter in which vehicles are operated" in the Est Palo Alto section and their advice as to what can be done to reduce the danger.

S.C. Chamber Has New Office

The San Carlos Chamber of Commerce held its first meeting of 1946 Monday night at the city hall, and decided the official headquarters would now be located in the Klose Bldg, at 930 El Camino Real, with a clerk on hand daily, Newell Sharkey, president, said.

Special committees, Sharkey said, would look into increased interest in a city airport and the encouragement of more light industry. A motion was made to address a letter to the postmaster general asking for the speeding up of a new postoffice in the city.

The chamber approved the printing of 5000 maps.

Three Injured In Accidents

Milford Kunz, 42, Brisbane mechanic, suffered a possible brain injury in an automobile accident at Brisbane on the Bayshore Hwy. Wednesday morning, California Highway Patrol officers reported.

Details of the accident, which occurred at 11:30 a.m., were lacking, pending arrival of the investigation officers from the scene.

Kunz was taken to South San Francisco Hospital and later transferred to Community Hospital.

Tuesday afternoon, J. B. Carter, 45, of 229 Bryant St., Palo Alto, suffered a shoulder injury when a motor bicycle he was driving crashed into a car on El Camino Real near Hazel St., Redwood City police said.

Frank Carinal, 46, of 2244 El Camino Real, Redwood City, was driver of the car, officers declared.

Helen Fisher, 2½, of 1308 Rosewood Ave., San Carlos, was recuperating at Mills Memorial Hospital at San Mateo from injuries suffered Tuesday afternoon when she was struck in front of her home by an automobile driven by Martin Jorgensen of Redwood City.

Hospital aides said the girl suffered leg bruises and that she was in good condition today. Jorgensen was not held, San Carlos police said.

T/5 D. E. Swann Heading for Home

T/5 D. E. Swann is attached to the 29th Replacement Depot, Manila, where he is awaiting transportation to the United States and subsequent discharge, the army reported Monday.

He was inducted into the army on May 12, 1943, was trained in the Transportation Corps and sailed overseas from San Francisco on Oct. 6, 1943. He has participated in action throughout the Southwest Pacific. His overseas service has earned him the Asiatic-Pacific and Philippine Liberation Ribbons with four battle stars. His wife resides in Redwood City.

Speeder Arrested After Chase Here

After a wild chase through Redwood City, San Carlos and Belmont, local police arrested Gordon T. Bush, 25, of 1828 Anza St., San Francisco, at 2 a. m., Friday.

Bush was traveling about 95 miles-an-hour through the three communities, officers said. He was lodged in the county jail on a reckless driving charge.

Second Suicide Attempt Succeeds

Unsuccessful in an attempt to take his life five days ago, Frank E. Cary, 53, an employe of the San Francisco Municipal Water Dept. in Millbrae, was successful Wednesday when he leaped in front of a northbound Southern Pacific train at the Macco crossing north of Millbrae.

Coroner William F. Crosby said Cary had been in poor health and that he slashed his wrists with a razor last Friday in an attempt to kill himself. The man left no notes.

Cary's body was discovered at 8:30 a.m. by Roy McMillion of Millbrae. Cary was last seen alive at 7:30 a.m. His body was badly mangled, according to sheriff's deputies, who investigated.

Ravenwood Board Asks Test Reports

Disclosing the fact that results presented to them as a conclusion formed after thorough testing were merely the results from one-third of a three part reading test, the board of trustees of the Ravenswood School Dist. at its regular monthly meeting at the Ravenswood School Monday night directed a letter to the office of Pansy J. Abbott, San Mateo County superintendent of schools, requesting a written answer in regard to the administration of the county-administered tests and the conclusions presented to the board as a result of those tests.

A motion to request an explanation from the county supervisor was made by Trustee T. J. Callahan after he charged that parents had been grossly misled by the figures presented to them. The tests were made in the Ravenswood district to determine the need for remedial reading classes.

Particular mention was made of the fact that parents were informed they could be especially proud of the results obtained from a test given third grade students. At last night's meeting, Callahan demanded to know why a second grade test had been given to the third grade.

The East Palo Alto trustee, who heads the local Grange, also called attention to the test instructions, which state that no single part of the three part test provides a conclusive result without the results from the other two parts.

Chmn. Mal Coombs added an opinion that the test administered by the county was designed to determine individual weaknesses in reading, while what was needed was a group attainment rating.

A committee representing the district's school teachers also appeared at last night's meeting to request a new, and higher, salary schedule. The proposed schedule would set a $2000 annual minimum and a $3080 annual maximum for teachers. The present minimum is set at $1800, with the present maximum at $2400.

The new schedule would provide an annual increase over the minimum of $120 each year. Teachers would be required to attend summer schools after every fourth year, and would forfeit salary increases unless they did so.

Minimum annual pay for the superintendent would be set at $3500. There would also be two vice principals with a wage set at $300 over that for the teachers. The committee's request also included a suggestions of additions to the teaching staff to provide for instruction in music (both instrumental and vocal, art and manual training.

FIREMEN ANSWER CALL

Redwood City firemen answered an alarm to 2301 Jefferson Ave. Sunday at 9:14 p. m. They reported that smoke was escaping from a transformer on a heater but there was no fire.

Roy Cloud to Speak At Teachers Forum

Roy W. Cloud of Redwood City, state executive secretary of the California Teachers Assn., will discuss school legislation pending before the state legislature during the first meeting in 1946 of the association's Bay Area council next Saturday in San Francisco.

Supt. Andrew Spinas of the Redwood City elementary schools will join the council as a new member automatically through his election as president of the San Mateo County Teachers Assn.

Dr. James Thornton, Sequoia High School director of research, and Mrs. Ruth Lepley of McKinley School, county representative of the classroom teachers, Bay Area council, are expected to attend the meeting.

Other county members of the council are Harold Stiller, teacher in the San Carlos Elementary School; Maximae Morris, teacher in the Jefferson School District and Elsie Morrison, South San Francisco teacher.

Miss Cecilia O'Neil, vice principal of San Jose High School, will preside at the council meeting. She was recently elected president of the organization.

Police Jail Man After E.P.A. Fight

Charles E. McCormack, 27, Palo Alto plumber's helper, was jailed by California Highway Patrol officers Sunday night after a fight with an automobile owner who accused him of rifling his car in East Palo Alto.

Officers Jay Minton and Walter Davis reported that they saw McCormack enter a parked car with difficulty and search the glove compartment and back seat.

As he began to leave the automobile, W. J. Hunt, 1060 Green St., San Francisco, owner of the car, arrived on the scene and the battle ensued, the police stated.

The CHP men chased McCormack and recovered a flashlight identified by Hunt as missing from his car.

Officers said he also had a second flashlight and camera on his possession.

McCormack, his bail set at $1000, was charged with tampering with an automobile and assault and battery.

Three From County Named to State Group

Three San Mateo County residents Saturday were named to the travel and recreation committee of the California State Chamber of Commerce's Central Valley Council according to Chmn. Prentiss A. Rowe.

They are E. A. Holgerson, secretary of the Half Moon Bay Chamer of Commerce; F. Louis Chess, general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific Co. at San Mateo and Atty. Rolla B. Watt of San Mateo.

First meeting of the new committeemen will be held Jan. 17 at the chamber office in San Francisco.

Inventor Demonstrates Stand

Chester Moody Armstrong, 643 Redwood Ave., familiarly known as "Dad," has designed a reading and writing table in an effort to make life for disabled veterans a little happier. The table can be arranged for those sitting up in bed, lying on either side and lying on back as in cases where patients are paralyzed or in casts, with table positioned over patient. The electrically -operated table can handle any sized book, magazine and newspaper. Armstrong, staff employe and safety inspector, wallboard department, Pacific Portland Cement Co., is shown demonstrating the new device to Charles Steppes and 2nd Lt. Evelyn Wagner at Dibble General Hospital. —Tribune Photo

Harrigan Held On Death Charge

William Lawrence Harrigan, 49-year-old Redwood City rigger, Tuesday was held to answer to superior court on a charge of murdering James R. Knapp, 73, 739 Chestnut St.

Bail for Harrigan, whose preliminary hearing this morning was held in Police Judge Edward McAuliffe's court, was set at $5000 cash or $10,000 bond.

Harrigan was arrested for murder following Knapp's death two days after an alleged scuffle between the two at Knapp's cabin. Knapp died at Community Hospital Dec. 30.

A post mortem examination showed that Knapp died from a brain hemorrhage caused by external blows.

Menlo Clothing Campaign Lags

Frank S. Becker, chairman of the Victory Clothing Collection in Menlo Park, said today that donations are "coming in slowly, but are up to my expectations."

Although doners are allowed to designate a particular country to which their bundle is sent, Becker added, until now only two countries have been so designated—Holland and Czechoslivakia.

The chairman also drew attention to the fact that personal notes may also be included in bundles, and that only a few have been sent so far. One of them read "Keep your chin up, better times are coming."

Becker voiced a plea for continued co-operation on the part of Menlo Park residents, and at the same time reminded them that bundles should be brought to his home at 1235 Laurel Ave.

Miles Asks Clothing Campaign Aid

Clothing is vitally needed to combat epidemics in Europe, China and the Philippines according to relief workers in liberated areas, Ferris Miles, chairman of the Victory Clothing Collection here declared today.

Blouses, shoes, skirts, dresses and coats are desperately needed in Russia; Dutch workers must have denims, corduroy trousers, field jackets, work shoes, warm socks and in China, millions are absolutely threadbare, Miles cited as examples of the importance of donating clothing to the drive.

Parents can send their clothing for the drive to the schools in the district via their children or bring donations to the two Redwood City fire houses, post office or to West Bay Motors.

Persons who are unable to go to these collection stations may call Redwood City 2266 and a truck will go directly to the homes. Donators are asked to tie their clothing into bundles and if possible to place it in cartoon boxes. Pairs of shoes should be tied together.

A report from Greece states that "the women are practically naked. They are ashamed to walk around outdoors. Men wear loin cloths made of burlap. The people don't know what it means anymore to wear shoes." From Czechoslovakia where the Winters are severe, a relief worker states that "children have to pool their clothes. To permit one child to go out, two must stay in bed."

"Bed ridden and helpless persons in China are lying in indescribable filth because they have no change of garments" the reports continue.

DAV HOLDS MEETING

Edmund Parrot Chapter 16 of the Disabled American Veterans held an executive meeting last week highlighted by movies. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

To Enter College

Pharmacist's Mate 1/c Ralph L. Hoffschild ended four years of navy duty recently with a discharge at Shoemaker. He served at navy hospitals at Mare Island, Oakland and in the Pacific Theater and holds the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with two battle stars, the Good Conduct and Victory Medals. The veteran plans to resume his studies at the University of California where he is working for a doctor's degree. He is the son of Mrs. B. J. Smith of 404 Broadway.

Harold Ratliff Plans To Take Courthouse Job

Seaman 1/c Harold Ratliff, son of the R. H. Ratliffs of 1474 Oxford St., is hoping to take a civil service position at the courthouse after receiving his discharge from the navy.

The veteran overseas in the Pacific Theater and for the past year was a yeoman stationed at the Alameda Naval Air Base. His wife, the former Alberta French, and their son, Kenneth, reside here.

Majority Favor Off-Street Parking at S.C. Meeting

Arguments in favor of off-street parking were presented by members of the San Carlos Planning Commission meeting Monday night at a special session to determine if a 50-footalley should run between El Camino Real and Laurel St. from the rear of the San Carlos Ave. Stores to those on Cherry St. This plan was favored by a majority of 15 interested property owners in the block. A formal hearing for Jan. 28 on this proposition of setback lines.

Donald Lilly, who with George Lagomarsino had been appointed on the commission to work out detailed plans in conjunction with City Engineer Robert A. Klassen, explained the plan, which he said, had been worked out for the "most parking space for the least expenditure of money," and added this proposed area would no longer be termed an alley, as it eliminated all the disagreeable features "that people dislike about an alley."

He estimated the commission plan would cost less than $300 per parking car, while other plans would result in approximately $900 per parking car.

Councilman Truman S. Waterman, council representative on the commission, said that if these present plans did not meet with favor it was inevitable that the city council would have to adopt an ordinance requiring parking area by merchants.

Chief opponent of the project was a young navy man, representing his father, C. S. Anderson, who is building on Laurel St. He said his father had negotiated with a large department store who required 145 ft. depth and would not contemplate locating here unless it could have this. Others, including Mrs. J. H. Solomon, who is putting up a large building on the corner of Laurel and Cherry, were concerned with who was going to bear the expense.

Chmn. Gordon Bye concluded the matter, explaining the commission only trying "to anticipate some of our parking headaches" and not wait, as many cities have, until" the problem is right in their laps."

FLEXY SPEEDY STEADY CLEANY

The next time you buy an automatic water heater for your home or for the new home you are planning, provide an adequate water supply for a new automatic washing machine or electric dishwasher. Hot water and plenty of it, activates soap into billions of energetic cleansing bubbles. Then steamy torrents of sterilizing rinse-water restore clothes to bright newness and dinner dishes to shining cleanliness. It costs very little more at the start to buy an ample family-size water heater to take care of washday, bathroom and kitchen hot water needs. And operating cost too, is very little more. Remember your family uses lots of hot water. Tests show that the average family of four uses more than 50 gallons a day. A small size water heater wears out from overwork in many a home Buy wisely... buy a bigger water heater next time.

Cpl. Warren C. Walker Lands in San Diego

Cpl. Warren C. Walker, veteran of four Pacific campaigns, is scheduled to arrive in San Diego Monday on the USS Barnes with a contingent of Marines from China.

Walker, who served with the First Division, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chevalier of 1221 Laguna Ave., Burlingame.

He attended Menlo Junior College before entering the service, and plans to enroll at Stanford University upon receiving his discharge. He is a graduate of Burlingame High School.

Dense Fog Covers Entire Bay Area

Dense fog ,described as one of the thickest in several years, slowed traffic in the Bay Area early Wednesday, causing numerous minor accidents.

Ships in the Bay moved slowly, with frequent sounding of fog signals, and at least one ship crash occurred. The ferryboat Ernie Pyle struck the docked Grace Liner, Queen of the Seas. No injuries resulted. The liner had aboard 1500 Pacific veterans headed for separation centers.

Abbie Hubbard Wins Interlocutory Decree

Labor Council Backs Carrigan

The San Mateo County Central Labor Council Monday night reaffirmed its recommendation of Edward J. Carrigan for appointment to the position of San Mateo postmaster in a telegram that was sent to Sen. Sheridan Downey, Secy., Carl E. Cohenour said today.

During the meeting, delegates from the Warehouseman's Union, Local 860, presented their credentials.

Hospital Group Prepares Report

Plans to render a formal report to the city council on construction of a hospital here were discussed by the Redwood City Hospital Study Committee Monday night, Mrs. Henry Beeger, chairman, reported.

The meeting was adjourned early because of the absence of two of the six committee members, she said.

Another meeting may be called within the next two weeks in order to begin work on the report which will probably recommend the council consider formation of a hospital district.

San Carlos Creamery Named in Damage Suit

A San Carlos creamery has been sued for $10,000 damages as the result of a customer slipping and falling to the floor in the place.

Stanley Bongren asked the $10,000 sum from the University Creamery, 1216 San Carlos Ave. He claimed he slipped and fell in the creamery a year ago Monday and suffered a knee-cap fracture, abrasions, lacerations and contusions.

$300,000,000 in Building In County by 1956 Predicted

Thirty thousand homes, worth 300 millions of dollars—

Construction stepped up so that the goal can be reached in 5 to 10 years—

That is the picture of expected residential construction in San Mateo County, based on a survey of existing and definitely planned subdivisions.

Thirty thousand homes would space for 96,000 residents—based on the usual census figure of 3.2 persons per family—many of them coming to the county for the first time or vacating other quarters which could be taken over by new families.

And the $300,000,000 which realtors see as near the minimum cost of those homes at present price levels, does not include the cost of the lots on which the structures will be built.

Nor does this picture include the millions which will be spent for new business districts and extensions of those already in existence to handle the trade which must follow an increase of nearly 50 per cent in the county's population.

Probably the story isn't complete with the 30,000 homes view. Subdividers insist there are new home area planned, but not to be announced until all negotiations for their purchase have been completed.

The estimate of construction comes from a survey by Bill Richter, Arnold Boyce and Don Buttle in a private study of the county's future.

The three men made their survey by studying newspaper announcements of subdivision plans and by personal trips through the county to see where building is going on or is contemplated. Then they consolidated all their reports and put the result on a map of the county.

When they had finished, they had a picture of a future development which will give the county an uninterrupted residential area stretching from the San Francisco County line to Santa Clara County along both sides of El Camino Real.

Their survey does not include any construction plans for Bayshore and Brisbane, but those communities undoubtedly will add more to the total of homes and they may spread enough eventually to all but link with South San Francisco.

To do that they must hurdle the high hills, which probably would be a major undertaking, although building already is going on in some of the valleys in those hills.

In effect, the building future for the county appears to mean a continuation and consolidation of the present trend toward a long, narrow urban community just inland from the bay, leaving county "hinterland" more or less undeveloped in the hills to the West.

However, there is more and more of a tendency on the part of builders and subdividers to look toward Skyline Blvd. and the occasional stretches of usable land along that highway.

And while all this population growth on the eastern fringe of the county goes on, construction undoubtedly will be continuing at a slower pace along the Coastside.

Prices of houses are based on today's costs. Before the work of filling up these subdivisions is completed, of course, those prices may have changed half a dozen times.

That will depend to some extent upon the effects of government regulations and upon the availability of materials and the cost of labor.

Those considerations will have a lot to do, too, with whether a major portion of the building is completed in five years or in 10, or even in a longer period.

But developers realize the present tremendous need for homes, not only here but throughout the country and they are determined to do their share toward alleviating the shortages as rapidly as possible.

Prosepective buyers are going to be able to find homes in every price category from $6000 to $25,000 "and up."

The lower cost homes will be concentrated primarily north of Millbrae, in south and east San Mateo and in the southern portions of the county.

Higher priced localities will be just about where they are now, in Hillsborough, Burlingame Hills, Baywood in San Mateo and in the hills west of other cities and towns of the county.

But there is a growing trend on the part of subdividers toward providing within their own developments a wide range of house prices and sizes, rather than standardizing all their construction at one general level.

In any event, it appears there will be enough diversity to permit a potential resident to pick his price and spend it in the city of his choice.

Hope Slays 'Em at Stanford

Bob Hope, dean of America's comedians, performed come laude at Stanford Tuesday night as 1700 students watched him present his nation-wide radio broadcast.

His 30-minute radio show was only half of a performance which brought Guest Star Walter Pidgeon, Singer Frances Langford, Comedian Jerry Colonna and Band Leader Skinnay Ennis on the stage.

In a brief few minutes before the broadcast, he introduced the stars and "warmed-up" his audience.

The show that went out over the radio was followed by a half-hour of informal gags and laughs that have made Hope popular with military and civilian audiences all over the world.

Those who listened to his radio show heard him joke about the university. (You get to Stanford by traveling Hwy. 101 to Menlo Park, and "tnen you just follow the Hoover buttons"), and Palo Alto, "A lot of students live in Palo Alto—if you call that living."

Those in the jammed auditorium laughed at Hope's reaction to a well-received joke—he drops his script to the floor, gets on his knees, and kisses the successful gag.

They especially enjoyed the antics of two somber-faced sound effects men, and the impromptu quips by Hope that lampooned several students in the audience.

Supervisors Hear Traffic Aid Proposals

Two proposals to aid the San Mateo County traffic situation were taken under consideration by the County Board of Supervisors Tuesday.

One was an outlined plan by the Ambulance Service of Palo Alto for 24-hour countywide ambulance service and the the second was a recommendation by Mal T. Montgomery, San Francisco traffic consultant, for a traffic survey of the county.

The board put over for further study the request of Sheriff James J. McGrath for the appointment of five additional deputies.

Proposal of the Palo Alto ambulance firm was for countywide service with four completely equipped ambulances at a cost to the county of $7000 a month, with the clause that if an additional ambulance is needed, it would cost the county $1750 additional.

Under the firm's plan, the ambulances would be equipped with two-way radios to be provided by the county, with two men operating each ambulance on every shift.

Montgomery, of the firm of Mal T. Montgomery & Associates, proposed a complete survey of the county in regards to safety. He suggested that roads be inspected, that dangerous places be noted and said the persons who makes the survey should make recommendations as to what should be done to avoid accidents.

Additional police on the county's highways were suggested by Montgomery.

He scored the county for lack of information about accidents.

"It seems to me the traffic judges should be induced to make a report to the county about their traffic cases and the disposition of them," he said.

A survey might cost $5000, he added.

Montgomery declared the county should appoint a safety engineer and an analyst. Supervisor Alvin S. Hatch questioned the advisability of naming anyone to make a survey if these two were appointed, declaring they could conduct their own survey.

Montgomery is to submit his proposal in writing.

American Trust Co. was the winning bidder for purchase of $100,000 worth of bonds of the San Carlos Elementary School Dist. That firm's bid was at 1½ per cent plus a premium of $144.

Approval was given to John H. McManus to operate a dog kennel on Old County Rd., Belmont. The application had been approved by the planning commission Dec. 21.

The board denied a request from Q. E. Bradshaw of Lomita Park to rescind the board's former action effecting consolidation of Lomita Park and Capuchino Sanitary Dists.

Sequoia Teachers Study Visual Aids

Three Sequoia High School teachers have returned from a week's conference on the use of additional audio-visual aids and printed materials in classrooms which was held on the University of California campus, Supt. A. C. Argo reported Wednesday.

Harvey Hall, English teacher; Mrs. Anna Bigler, biology instructor and Donald L. Cherry of the Sequoia history department attended the conference called by Dr. Frank Lindsey of the State Department of Public Instruction. Approximately 40 instructors from 15 high schools in Northern California gathered daily at Haviland Hall to hear discussions of the visual aids, listen to records and read materials.

Professor Reginald Bell of Stanford and the acting dean of education at Stanford were among the speakers, Hall said today. Teachers were divided into sub-sections for group discussions.

Another conference will be held at Stanford June 21 to discuss the results of the audio-visual aids which will be used by the 40 teachers in their classrooms during the next semester. The instructors will attempt to evaluate what has been done and still needs to be done, Hall pointed out.

How to save more with the bulk foods

Cold weather sharpens appetites and calls for hearty meals. Here are some favorite ideas for winter-time meals, using the inexpensive bulk foods—rice, lentils—and macaroni products.

PILAF

This is a pleasant change from potatoes and goes with almost any meat. Brown 1 cup white rice in 1 tablespoon of drippings in a heavy kettle or frying pan with a tightly-fitting lid. Add gradually 1 cup bouillon or meat stock (2 bouillon cubes and 1 cup hot water make a good bouillon), 1 cup canned tomatoes, salt and pepper. Cover and steam until rice is just moist and each grain separate, about 30 to 40 minutes.

SPLIT PEA OR LENTIL SOUP

It's nice to float sauteed slices of frankfurter on this soup and serve it with hot garlic French bread for a supper main dish. Place 2 cups washed split peas or lentils in a large kettle and add 2 quarts of water, 3 or 4 stalks of celery, 2 carrots, 1 medium-size onion, a bay leaf, and salt and pepper. If you have it, add the bone left from a roast, a few slices of salt pork or bits of bacon sauteed until brown, or a couple of tablespoons of meat dripping. Boil rapidly for 20 minutes and then simmer slowly about 2 hours, or until peas are soft and tender. Add more water if necessary. Serves 6 to 8.

DEVILED MACARONI OR NOODLES

To make an unusual accompaniment for meat loaf or pot roast, season about 3 cups steaming hot macaroni or noodles with 1 to 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, a dash or two of Worcestershire sauce, ½ cup grated sharp cheese, and butter or margarine. Sometimes a couple of tablespoons of chopped onion may be added.

HOW TO USE LEFT-OVER RICE

Rice is so easy to keep and so convenient to have on hand that it's a good idea to cook plenty extra. Just store it in a covered container in the refrigerator. Here are some favorite ways with leftover rice—

RICE CAKES—To each cup of cooked rice add 1 slightly beaten egg. Mix well. Drop by spoonfuls in hot shortening in a frying pan. Brown slowly, turning once. Serve hot, plain or with syrup.

RICE WAFFLES OR MUFFINS—Substitute cold, cooked rice for ½ the flour in your favorite waffle or muffin recipe. Bake as usual.

ADD cooked rice to soup, stuffing, or make it into rice pudding.
